Welcome

Welcome back, we hope you've had a wonderful summer and looking forward to the new academic year. We are embracing signs of autumn, exploring our sense of self and our local community during forest school sessions. We'll keep you informed and share our news and photographs on Tapestry.

This term our book is...

A House That Once Was by Julia Fogliano

Curriculum

Our focus this term is 'Know your place' We'll be exploring ourselves and aspects of family life during our topic sessions. We'll explore aspects of our local community during our sensory sessions whilst engaging in sensory experiences.

In our communication and PSHE sessions, we will be exploring 'who am I?' thinking about our bodies, how we move and our likes / dislikes. Our sensory story this term is 'A house that once was' we will explore aspects of the house and go in search of its history.

Whilst the weather is still fine we'll be taking advantage of the sunshine and accessing our outdoor area. We will be exploring signs of Autumn during our forest school and horticulture sessions. We'll be busy nurturing our plants and harvesting our crop. During art and design we continue our autumn theme whilst exploring natural materials colour and texture.
