Welcome

Welcome back 'Lilies'! This half term we hope to leave those nasty sickness bugs behind and hopefully welcome the warmer weather. We have an action packed half term, with so much to squeeze in! It's going to be busy but also very fun!

This term our focus is...

Curriculum

Continuing on with our theme of charity and volunteering the classes embark on their own individual projects but also join forces to raise funds for a local charity. Leopard Lily are well into 'project bird box' in which they have been using their DIY skills to build bird boxes and feeding stations to sell to the public. Tiger Lily have been learning all about different national charities and have started volunteering in school as part of their Duke of Edinburgh award. Later this half term the classes will be organising a charity toy shop in which they will collect, price and sell toys to other pupils in school and then donate their takings to a local charity.

Our core studies continue as detailed in our first spring newsletter, with pupils working towards different OCR units which will form their qualification, but we also look forward to Science Week, World Book Day and Careers Week.

Our weekly sessions of food and nutrition, forest school and the immersive 4D room continue. This is also our last half term of swimming. We are so incredibly proud of the progress made and the water confidence pupils have developed and want to thank parents for their contributions towards this.
